

LASIK PRICING GUIDE

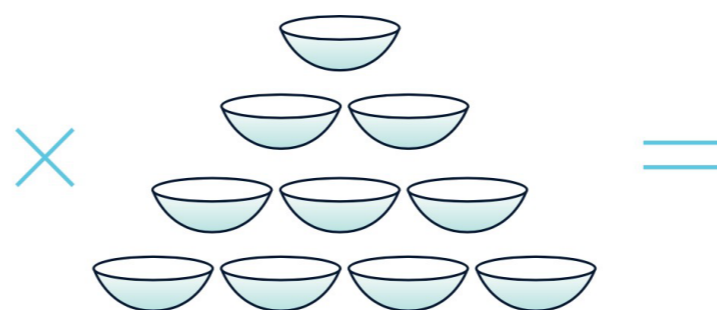

Congratulations! You've taken your first step toward investing in your vision and quality of life through modern LASIK. Continue reading to find out more about the most popular ways to switch your vision correction budget from expensive contacts to a high-value Advanced LASIK procedure - and save money in the process.

At Chu Vision Institute, we offer 3 modern laser procedures: Modern LASIK and PRK procedures are $2400 per eye. The Advanced SMILE laser vision correction technique is $3500 per eye. No matter which procedure you qualify for, patients report that it typically pays for itself within about 3 years. We've even had patients report an immediate savings of up to $850/ year simply by switching from costly daily contact lenses to an affordable LASIK payment plan.¹

“RENTING” VS. “BUYING” 20/ 20 VISION THE LIFETIME COSTS OF CONTACTS Vs. LASIK

The average monthly cost of contacts $45–$75.

Multiply this by the average number of years a person wears contact lenses (15–20 years).

You will spend $5,000–$10,000 MORE than the cost of LASIK.

TAKE THE “SMART PHONE” APPROACH: PAYMENT PLANS AS LOW AS $80/ MO²

Many of us don't outright buy the latest smartphone. We use a financing plan to make small monthly payments toward the purchase, while enjoying immediate use of our new technology.

At Chu Vision Institute, we partner with CareCredit to offer flexible financing plans, including a $0-Down Interest Free option. This way, you can enjoy the benefits of your procedure now, while making convenient payments over time

PRE-TAX OPTIONS: FLEX SPENDING ACCOUNTS (FSA) AND HEALTH SAVINGS ACCOUNTS (HSA)

Flex Spending Accounts (FSAs) and Health Spending Accounts (HSAs) are two of the most popular ways to pay for modern LASIK at Chu Vision Institute and save money at the same time.

FSAs and HSAs are funded using pre-tax dollars, and both options are gladly accepted at Chu Vision Institute.

Check with your employer to find out if these options are available to you. Questions about using your FSA or HSA on your procedure? Call our office - (952) 835-1235. We are glad to help!
